

Dear friends and family:

22 March, 2008

You are first today.

As I approach the chosen day for celebration of resurrection and coronation of our loving KING JESUS I would be negligent if I did not write a few words to you of encouragement in the faith.

While in this place called federal prison, I remain highly blessed among men, and praise God every day for His greatness in Grace, Mercy, Love and Glory. Yesterday afternoon I sat in the chapel going over all the songs of praise in our songbook that relate to the season of resurrection we call easter. I am blessed here because all the pagan and commercial celebrations of ishtar are kept far from me. There is no one trying to use a pagan idea of a rabbit laying chocolate and golden eggs, and trying to tell a bible story through traditions that make the laws of God of none effect. I pray that you have the strength to endure yet another assault of mammon on the Glory and Righteousness that is from God and for God.

As I sat singing praises a group gathered who were seeking a place for their little study group. I willingly conceded the space and as a reward was invited to join their study and discussion. Thank you Jeff; I was well prepared; they are just discovering and beginning into "Wild at Heart" as a book study for personal development. Thanks; I had a few years head start. Sadly, as I did in the beginning of my study 5 or 6 years ago, they were looking for ways to discredit the author and book because he directly challenged their pride in their manhood. But; Praise God, we soon got past that and actually began to examine everyone besides ourselves, chuckle now. I do not have a very active sense of humor in this place. tee hee.

I was glad at the number of songs and hymns I recalled and could sing with some semblance of the melody, largely due to mom, and Charolette. But then one of the things that has most surprised me here is how many have no sense of rhythm at all, particularly those who claim african heritage. Only a small fraction have any sense of music, or can jump and play sports, just like the rest of us.

Blessings come in small ways and big ways.

I did get the suppelement mailed last week to the supreme Court; and the forces of evil must know something is afoot for God, truth and justice in our America. On Wednesday I received a letter from IRS wanting my tax returns from 2000-2007. There is little doubt that this will be an effort to eventually develop some sort of distraction, or attempted future prosecution to carry out their threat to never allowing me out of jail. So be it, I welcome the opportunity to shed the light of truth in this dark place again. It does seem intriguing that this letter comes postmarked on the day my Supreme Court petition for rehearing was due. All things work together for my good because of my love for the LORD. This too shall be an opportunity and not an oppression, and it is God shall be Glorified.

Give thanks with a grateful heart!

To God be the Glory; great things He hath done!!!

I have not communicated much with anyone this past week so I have no news from outside this tiny little compound. The new job goes well, and I see now how to minister to my fellow workers in the prison industries. This week I did not have to fill out paperwork that lied about the testing we do; I just did the tests myself and ignored the instruction about why we cheat and lie on routine occasions. This too will be opportunity to minister to those associates that by simply doing the job correctly we avoid some of the useless boredom of sitting around wondering what to do next.

I was also blessed this week with 2 copy cards, one a gift, so that I have no need to look for ways to steal copies from work, and I am sure that this will be an opportunity to set an example. Isn't it cute how God sets it up so the new guy sets the example for the old hands set in their ways; sounds a little like Jesus at just 12 teaching the Pharisees. I love all the little opportunities to follow His example. About 90% of the people in federal prison were never convicted as proscribed by the constitution; but are here by the words of their own lips seeking compromise with the government in plea bargains to worship men in black dresses who make the laws of man and God of none effect every day in their own pursuit of godhood and demagoguery.

It is simply repeating the error of Eve and Adam that carries most of our people away. No matter what you call it every selfish act is an attempt at control by those who are suppose to be totally surrendered to Jesus as King. Remember the fate Jesus commanded for those who refuse to allow him to reign over them. You have a heritage and right to overwhelming victory; you can overcome the world as children of God, but you must be truthful in your pursuit and not take on the traditions of men that make the laws of God of none effect. I am battling that with one of our local pastors who visits here; he is a funny mental Baptist, complete with denial of all supernatural gifts and workings of the Holy Spirit and implementation of ordinances in the church. OH MY! Again opportunity knocks; and I gladly fling open the door to reach out in faith, opposing all evil such that it must flee.

Praise God from whom all blessings flow; praise Father Son and Holy Ghost!!!!

What a mighty God we serve; and like it or not you will serve his purpose in His earth, either with humble surrender and gladness or with great fear and trepidation; but serve you shall. I spent most of my life too selfish and too busy to have sufficient time for fellowship with my friend Jesus, and often the thought comes to mind what I will do once I am released to overcome that shortfall. I carefully recognize that we are in a world that wants to keep us too busy and too well entertained to have time for our Holy Father, and King Jesus. And it is all for naught, for none of the trinkets and toys can be taken with us, and would be merely rubble in our great mansions just over the hilltop.

As I prepare for tomorrow's sunrise celebration of God and King I look forward to the opportunity to minister to you in person.

During my time of trial JH invited me to his church in Louisiana to hold a revival and citizenship teaching for God and America. I will be truly prepared to speak revival to all who I encounter; or in most cases vival, for most are not truly ever made alive in HIM, but only sold out inot some watered down tradition of man to capture our boldness in our faith to timid passifists ever yielding our strength to fraudulent merchants of law Jesus cursed and condemned in Luke 11: 46-52.

So long as we remain dedicated to escaping our responsibility in our creation called America, we are unprepared for vival or Kingdom but merely live a lie to endure this principality and power of the forces of evil in this day begging for God to do what he ahs already done and sealed once for all time. God does not need to repeat HIs great task or sacrifice; once was all it takes. WE Need to repeat our sacrifice of our bodies daily to holiness and righteousness by the power He has already given us through the HOly Spirit, even the Spirit of Truth so that all lies should be far from us; as far as the east is from the west. Most of us have our east and west overlapping.

All knowledge of truth brings with it responsibility to do the truth, not merely give lipservice with our mouth a few times a year, or even once a week. Truth, and the Spirit of truth brings complete responsibility every day for every act of our hand and every word of our mouth. OH YES! that is the simplicity of God's truth, our Righteous KING who has made us His righteousness in His earth. We are kings of the earth, because he made it so so that we would also be royalty for fellowship with him. Funny thing is we have whole religions of devil worship setting satan up as prince of the earth, or the air, either way, all princes are under the foot of the kings. YES OF COURSE IT IS THAT SIMPLE! The one who would bruise you heel has been elevated above you for money and th elove of it, or the pride of men in taking power over your mind, and money. Beware the leaven of the Pharisees is as true today as 2000 years ago. The religious leaders of that day and this have set themselves up as authority worthy of tithe and tribute dealing in the merchandise of the souls of men fo rgreat profit in the love of money.

And just like in Jesus earthly ministry the Pharisees work closely with the Law Merchants to hide the keys of knowledge and all truth for the purpose of economic and legal slavery of a people who refuse knowledge and suffer the perils promised by HOsea : 4.

"If it is not God's law it is no law at all"; Justice Storey, Storeys Commentary on the Constitution, my copy of which is likely lost to posterity in the shuffle since Donna departed this earth..

Please consider carefully your standing as Holy, because He is holy, and Righteous because He has made you his righteousness. We are and shall be responsible.
